

Congratulations Hayden, Ethan, and Jaxon!

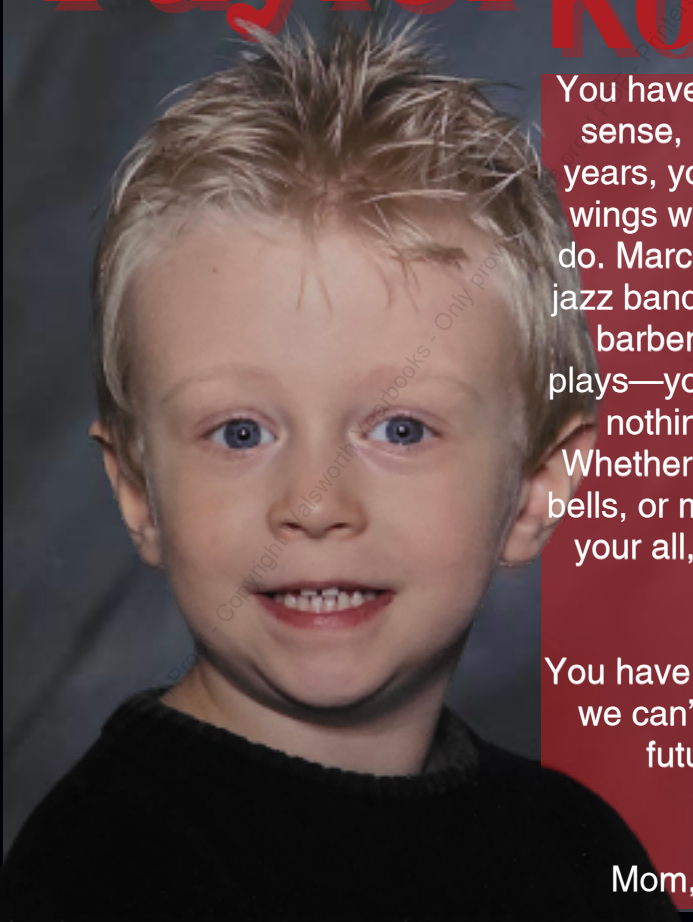

Different dreams, same roots. Proud of all three! We hope you chase your dreams with the same energy and excitement you had on your very first day of school.
Love, Mom & Dad

Adrian C

Yearbooks are explicitly restricted from printing this PDF or recreating it in any form.

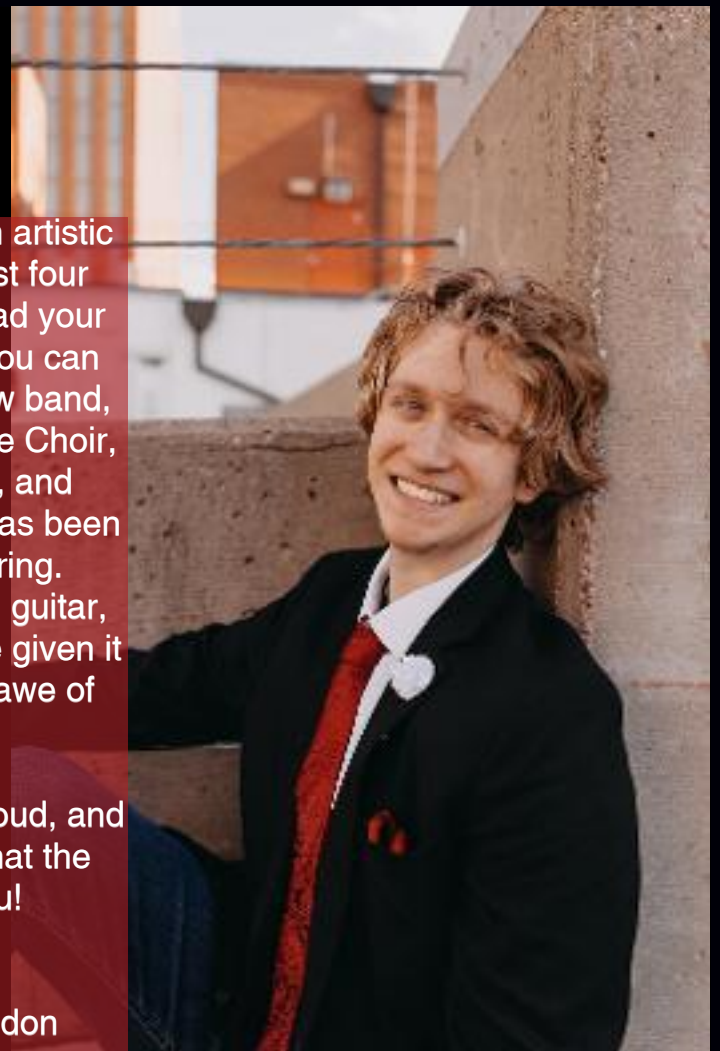

Taylor Kohn

You have always had an artistic sense, and over the last four years, you've truly spread your wings with everything you can do. Marching band, show band, jazz band, choir, All-State Choir, barbershop, musicals, and plays—your dedication has been nothing short of inspiring. Whether it's percussion, guitar, bells, or marimba, you've given it your all, and we are in awe of your talent.

You have made us so proud, and we can't wait to see what the future holds for you!

We love you,
 Mom, Dad, and Brandon

Advertisement: For the senior advertisement I designed, I really wanted it to feel personal and connected. I chose red and black because they look strong together, but also because they matched the tie he's wearing in the main photo, which helped everything feel cohesive. I made his baby picture a little bigger on purpose because I love what it represents. That no matter how much we grow up, we're all still just big kids at heart. I wanted that sense of playfulness and nostalgia to stand out and add a little extra heart to the overall design.