Artist Statement:

In the creation of my ad for my schools' store I started with a blank canvas on adobe express. I created the map from scratch by making a graph, then adding a colorful background. I knew where everything was as I had been given a tour of the new store location by the principal and remembered the layout. With permission from the school store advisor I gathered the logo of the Birdhouse from the school store's website along with the images of the articles of clothing that are available. This was my first time doing a project using graphic design in this way so I took feedback from the rest of my staff to help me learn and create a better design.
