

One of my classmates, Ethan Auwerda, won the national soap box derby competition last year in July. We are creating a yearbook spread about soapbox this year because we currently have three Ogallala students who have been national champions, including Ethan. I wanted to include a poster highlighting Ethan for this spread.

I started with a blank Canva page and uploaded pictures that Ethan had sent me. I copied and layered the same picture to create this poster. I added simple headlines and text....
