Theme explanation:

The 2025-2026 school year marks the first time Standing Bear High School will have all four grades present. To mark this momentous occasion, the Kodiak yearbook staff decided on “All In” as this year’s theme.

On a literal level, the title represents the fact that all four grades are now in the school - this leads to a sense of accomplishment and completeness in the halls. To represent this, we assigned each grade a color that stayed with them the whole book. You can see these colors in their names as well as their shaddow photo treatment. Freshmen are grey to represent the many middle schools they came from and the newness LSB experiences bring to their lives. Sophomores were given light blue to represent their year at LSB and the feeling of comfortablitly they feel returning for year two. They are beginning to take on the Grizzly blue. Juniors are assigned a medium blue to represent them being new upperclassmen. This is their third year, and having been one of the OG classes, their blue is much deeper to represent their experience. Finally, seniors are assigned Navy, the deepest shade of blue, to represent how deep their love and loyalty for LSB runs.

On each page, we made it a point to include representatives from all four grades. We also included monthly recaps to share more of the current events that may have fallen through the cracks otherwise, highlighting “all” that went on. In addition, each class got their own show stopper in the book to show off their various experiences and thoughts.

On a deeper level, our title speaks to the many ways in which LSB Grizzlies are giving it their all to help create and solodify school community, culture, and tradition. Whether it was academics, athletics, or school spirit, Grizzlies made sure to be “All In” in every aspect. We focused stories on the way that athletes and students improved in their craft and battled hard to be their very best, despite wins and losses.

We included the motif of 4 lines in our school colors to represent the four grades as well as our comittment to continue moving forward in our goals and accomplishments.

for the Grizzlies

All the hands clapped at pep rallies as students scream for their team.

Each and every point scored at the Staff vs. Staff basketball game.

All the cheers echoed in The Cave all football season long.

Each little note passed to a best friend, and every song danced to at Homecoming.

Memories. Energy. Pride.

From the August sunrise to the May sunset.

This year, the Grizzly spirit was ALL IN.

I love being a part of the school culture because it's such a great community. Showing school spirit is so much fun because I get to lift people up. To me, 'All In' is showing show my Grizzly pride and having that claws out mentality.

Proven Under Pressure

Varsity's First Season to The Playoffs

For the first time with all four grades on the roster, the Grizzlies' Varsity Football Team turned years of building into a milestone season; earning their first trip to the Class B playoffs. Freshman through seniors filling the halls, the stands, and the field.

Hyrum Duggar (12) mentions, "Having all of the grades creates more depth at every position and gives so much more opportunity for growth."

After three years of building, this season paid off. The Grizzlies pushed their way to the Class B playoffs for the first time in the school's history. It wasn't just about winning games, it was about proving how far dedication and teamwork could take them. From early morning practices to late night film sessions, the Grizzlies gave everything they could to make the school, and history, proud.

Although the playoff run ended sooner than they hoped, it represented something bigger: the start of a new chapter. The lessons they learned this season will carry though with them as the program continues and as their seniors graduate.

"The biggest lesson I've taken from Standing Bear football is that you really have to play for yourself and the fun of the game and not take it all too seriously. It's all going to come to an end at some point and you want your memories to be about how much you enjoyed it." Senior Cooper Grosserode explains.

The energy around school grew week by week. With the student section fuller than previous years, Friday nights felt bigger and louder than ever. Students packed the stands in neon, white out, and camo themes; creating moments when you could really feel like the school was all in. This season had become less about how far they got and more about how far they'd come.

All On and Off the field

Grizzlies earn academic All-State

Players Hayden Holdren (12) , Cooper Grosserode (12) , Noah Roebke (11), Caden Schaefer (11), Kash O'Bryant (11), Owen Novell (11), Chase Loecker (11), Aiden Garito (11), Nathan Harvey (11), Rogan Buresh (11), and Miles Behrens (11) each got recognized for their dedication and hard work in the classrooms and on the field. Student Athletes earn academic All-State by being nominated by their high school and demonstrating leadership and high academic excellence (GPA of 3.7+). Junior Owen Novell shares how he was able to successfully balanced school and football this season; 'Doing school work over the weekends and asking for help from my teachers and other classmates has been helpful to maintain good grades.'

We're All Here

Players reflect on first season with classes filled.

"The most exciting part about being on varsity in my first year was definitely learning and improving at the varsity level. I think starting and winning games will be the most exciting things in years to come even though it'll be hard."
Jake Waegli (09)

"All four grades being here now has been beneficial because we've been able to get better as a whole, and it's been able to prepare players for later seasons. It has definitely helped us develop as a team."
Carter Bondegard (10)

"Everyone being here now has helped us to be able to increase motivation among the team and perform our best. Whether that's being encouraging on the side lines or being able to see the diversity of grades on the field."
Parker Bohment (11)

"When it comes to the seniors, with all four grades, our leadership positions have elevated and we've been able to understand the importance and meaning of maintaining high standards."
Ryland Sterns (12)

Spencer Cacek (11)

'Dot day, to me, is a way to show your creativity and uniqueness.'
Keira Wilson (10)

'In class, we watched a video about the book 'El Punto,' which talks about how anybody can make art and be creative.'
Jackson Froeschl (12)

For LSB students, Dot Day is a day of creativity and fun. Spanish teacher, Jorge Vera Chavez's students spend the class period watching a video about the book 'El Punto', which inspires students to express themselves and shows how even a single dot can grow into something amazing. 'This activity helps students make their mark by helping them know that they are unique. I think that as a teacher, one of the things we can do is bring out the best in students so that they can make their mark whether it is in school or sports,' Señor Vera Chavez explains. After watching the video, students make their own dots by drawing and coloring in 30 circles, making each one special. They then hang them up in the hallways to showcase their work and encourage others to embrace their own creativity.

Lindyn Stutzman Records 1,000 Career Assists

'I think this really motivates the team, because it was just really cool to see our teammate reach such an amazing goal.'
Reese Pederson (10)

'Lindyn puts a lot of effort in her practice and she is also always encouraging. She is not just successful skill wise, but she is also a good teammate and is always lifting others up in the process.'
Willa Lawton (11)

'This shows that Lindyn always puts her sets in a place where the offense can terminate. By her doing her best, we can do our best. It also shows how well we can work together as a team and be successful together.'
Addison Scofield (9)

On September 20th, the Standing Bear Varsity Volleyball team brought the energy to Pius X during a Saturday tournament and made history along the way. During the game, sophomore Lindyn Stutzman hit her career record, and now holds the schools highest assists record by reaching her 1,000th assist. Lindyn reflected on that day and expressed her gratitude for all that her team has done for her, saying, 'I am thankful for all my teammates because they were the ones that truly made it happen. Without their passes and their hits, I would have never gotten it.' Head Varsity Coach, Nicholas Spencer, complimented Lindyn as a player, saying, 'Lindyn is bought into building connections and positively impacting the people around her. She continues to grow what we call a 'setter mentality,' where she accepts responsibility for things that don't go well, and is quick to give credit to others for things that do go well. Those traits have allowed her to earn a ton of trust from her coaches and teammates.' Lindyn is on track to reach 2,000 assists by next year, and is hopeful hitting 3,000 in her senior year.

Laughing and talking fill the gym as excited 8th graders walk around and explore all the tables. Students start to file out into the hallways and into the pods as they wander around, stopping to talk to teachers and grizzlies about the different activities, clubs, classes and sports offered at Standing Bear.

For these teachers and students, 8th Grade Night is a chance to share their favorite parts about Standing Bear to the incoming 9th graders.

Standing Bear Principle Mrs. Cassata shared her view point on the night, 'I think 8th grade night went well. I wasn't sure how it was going to go, since the District moved them all to December, but I am pleased with our turn out. When I talked with staff, everyone had people that came to see them, talk with them, and hear about their programs and opportunities.'

By sharing their love of the school, teachers and students are hoping to inspire many future grizzlies.

Showing off Our Pride

Grizzlies Share Their Love for Spirit Week and Pep Rally Excitement

Standing Bear High School was filled with spirit during the week of the Homecoming Football game. The Grizzlies went all out as students dressed in new, fun outfits each day of the week, showing just how much pride they have.

Junior Kaitlin Schulz exclaimed, 'I love seeing all of the different outfits throughout the week, especially twin day because all of the twin outfits were so cute!' As the week came to an end, students flowed into the gym, which quickly filled with laughter and excitement as everyone cheered on their fellow Grizzlies at the pep rally.

Freshman Claire Wilest shared, 'I really enjoyed being selected to participate in the games at the pep rally. My favorite game was the mattress sliding game because it was funny and everyone was cheering super loud.'

The week wrapped up with nothing but good energy, strong school pride, and memories. Sophomore Raya Vandersnick states, 'I really loved getting to see everybody dress up, because it really made me feel like everyone was connected in some way.'

As another spirit week came to an end, Standing Bear once again proved what it meant to be a true Grizzly.
