

Before The Score As they run out of our smoky tunnel, Ayuel Geu, 12th, and Bristol Gibson, 11th, lead our team to take the field against Westview Wolverines. (photo: Bailey Martin)

what are we AFTER ?

Saxy And I know It Carter Good, 10th, flexes his saxophone skills at the 2025 NSBA State Marching Band Competition at Buell Stadium on Oct. 25. "Neon Cowboy" placed first in visual effects and percussion, second in color guard and third overall. Their overall score increased from 83.7 in the 2024 state competition to 90.425 in the 2025 state competition. (photo: Andrea Jaime)

Drum Roll Senior drum major Jenna McVicker is crowned Homecoming Queen after the Titans beat Omaha Westview 47-7. (photo: Bailey Martin)

Looking back, how could anyone not see it? All the history made, memories formed, experiences collected – all the nostalgia. It's our real life that spills between these pages.

From the very start, students navigated new paths to allow for an ever-expanding Southside learning space. At the first pep rally, all four grade levels squeezed in to make room for the school's largest ever population of "Hey, Baby" swayers and "Do It" chanters.

When game time arrived, athletes went after all the gains while Black Hole seniors sported pinstripe overalls and rallied school spirit from costumed crowds. Football delivered its first ever Championship faceoff at Memorial Stadium, bringing home the runnerup trophy, and Volleyball spiked its way to a historic eighth State Champion title.

Going after all the applause, Play Production kicked off the theatrical year with "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and then the schoolwide musical cracked the case in "The Comedy Musical Whodunit Curtains." After that, Show Choir season revved up with a new Revolution debuting in treble and Marching Band's cowboy theme carrying over to a Platinum-Radiance hoedown.

In the everyday, students piled on all the ideas, and all the extras, with countless academic opportunities through Academies, Advanced Placement, electives and extracurriculars including new groups seeking to EmpowerHer and invite smart political discussion. Surely we've all realized it by now. Starting on Day One, Titans brought all the spirit.

We were after it all.